What does "consubstantial with the Father" mean?

"Consubstantial with the Father" means that Jesus and God the Father are of the same "stuff." It's a word that dates from the early centuries of the Church, as the Christian community struggled to articulate its faith in the Trinity, and its experience of the oneness of God the Father, Jesus and the Holy Spirit.

What does "descended to hell" mean?

The word hell, in the Catholic theological tradition, can have two meanings, the place of eternal separation from God and the place of the dead. The Creed refers to this last understanding.

What does "and with your spirit" mean? It is our response to the priest's blessing, "The Lord be with you," which is a time-honoured biblical greeting (think of Gabriel's greeting to Mary, and the name that Gabriel tells Mary her Son will bear: Emmanuel, God with us). The spirit is the very innermost reality of the human person. This dialogue reveals the Lord's presence among, in and to all of those who have gathered to celebrate the Mass.

The following three word phrases can enrich every relationship:

I'LL BE THERE - Being there for another person is the greatest gift we can give. When we are truly present for other people, important things happen to them and to us. We are renewed in love and friendship. We are restored emotionally and spiritually. 'Being there' is at the very, very core of civility.

I MISS YOU - Perhaps more marriages could be salvaged and strengthened if couples simply and sincerely said to each other, "I miss you." This powerful affirmation tells partners they are wanted, needed, desired and loved.

I RESPECT YOU - Respect is another way of showing love. Respect conveys the feeling that another person is a true equal. It is a powerful way to affirm the importance of a relationship.
